Swachh Bharat Abhiyan

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi exhorted people to fulfill Mahatma Gandhi's vision of Clean India. The 'Swachh Bharat Abhiyan' is a massive mass movement that seeks to create a Clean India. Cleanliness was very close to Mahatma Gandhi's heart. A clean India is the best tribute we can pay to Bapu when we celebrate his 150th birth anniversary in 2019. Mahatma Gandhi devoted his life so that India attains 'Swarajya'. Now the time has come to devote ourselves towards 'Swachhata' (cleanliness) of our motherland.

To accelerate the efforts to achieve universal sanitation coverage and to put the focus on sanitation, the Prime Minister of India had launched the Swachh Bharat Mission on 2nd October 2014. Under the mission, all villages, Gram Panchayats, Districts, States and Union Territories in India declared themselves "open-defecation free" (ODF) by 2 October 2019, the 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, by constructing over 100 million toilets in rural India. To ensure that the open defecation-free behaviors are sustained, no one is left behind, and that solid and liquid waste management facilities are accessible, the Mission is moving towards the next Phase II of SBMG i.e ODF-Plus. ODF Plus activities under Phase II of Swachh Bharat Mission (Grameen) will reinforce ODF behaviors and focus on providing interventions for the safe management of solid and liquid waste in villages.

मला आवडलेले पुस्तक:

पुस्तके माणसाचे जगणे समृद्ध करतात, पण नेमके काय वाचले पाहिजे, हे आपल्या लक्षातच येत नाही. म्हणूनच आपण वाचलेल्या, आपल्याला आवडलेल्या पुस्तकांचे मनोगत आपण आपल्या मित्रांना देऊन त्यांच्या वाचनामध्ये वृद्धी करू.

With the acceleration of globalization and the integration of the global economy, English is increasingly regarded as a means of gaining a competitive economic advantage.

English has also emerged as a key strand in the debate over what constitutes good human capital and what skills labor requires in order to generate economic value.

English is frequently mentioned as a "21st-century skill set" and a "must-have" for participation in the global knowledge economy.

English is now regarded as essential for national participation in the globalized economy, as a means of providing individuals with access to knowledge, skills, and employment opportunities, and as a facilitator of social mobility. As a result, worldwide investment in English language education is increasing as Ministries of Education, schools, and universities strive to maximize the economic, social, cultural, and political benefits of English language proficiency. ## "Earn to Sacrifice"

"Economics is a study of Mankind in the ordinary business of life"

This definition of Economics is given by Alfred Marshall, neoclassical economist, clearly pointing out that economics is on one side, a study of wealth but more important it is a part of the study of Man. It is for the sake of human beings that money is made. Wealth is not given primary importance. It is earned only for promoting human welfare. The primary importance being given to human beings and human welfare.

Welfare is a vague concept. It is purely subjective. It differs from man to man, from place to place, and from age to age. From the concept of Neo classical economics greater consumption means more satisfaction which leads to higher Human well-being. So we can also say that getting more and more material means of life gives more satisfaction and happiness leads to human well-being. But nowadays in search of getting more money for securing the future and accumulating assets for our coming generation, we ignore enjoying the little joys & happiness of life. Spending time with family, enjoying each and every festival together, giving time to the children and parents, visiting their native village once in a year, forgiving all these happiness and joy for earning money. The ultimate goal of earning money is to derive happiness for the family but for becoming more and more rich we are missing love, pleasure, family moments, festivals and many things.

Today modern society's definition of success is based on the concepts of money, fame and power. I think many of us become trapped in the mindset of focusing on making a living for survival and working really hard to make lots of money so that we are seen to be successful. It is a kind of Money Addiction.

"In Order that people may be happy in their work,
These three things are needed: they must be fit for it.
They must not do too much of it.
And they must have a sense of success in it."
- JOHN RUSKIN

Work is essential as it brings us a sense of fulfillment and satisfaction to our lives. Work put our creative energies to use; it stimulates us and can bring us huge successes. But when it takes over our lives to a point where we no longer find satisfaction or happiness in what we do or we become slaves to our jobs. We find ourselves in a place where we are “existing rather than living” and we choose to live a life of mediocrity, rather than a life filled with happiness, joy and success. Work and passion are not our enemies, it only becomes the enemy when we allow them to take over our lives and our sense of self-identity. The word happiness, fulfillment, passion and joy do not appears to be associated with the concept of making a living – this is why it is important that you should be focusing on making a life where your definition of success is built on the foundation of words such as happiness, joy, love, passion, fulfillment and satisfaction.....

My Dream

Mavis Malaika Pereiera

Every person has an ambition or desire, as when we were kids we used to be thrilled to see things and by growing up. We wanted to get them.

My dream when I was a child in school I wanted to achieve my goals by becoming an air hostess or social worker and then when I entered college, I wanted to be an actress, work as a hotelier, or a journalist.

When I dreamt of becoming a journalist I did not have the iota of thinking of how vast this subject and field is and how much effort it takes to portray myself in anchoring and talking on specific topics. Then after that my family made me understand that it is not easy to take up a career in journalism when you are not in the momentum and don't have a clue of the risk and effort it has in the field, that's when my dream of becoming a journalist got shattered knowing that I did not have the capability to be one I got demotivated. But then after that, I thought to myself that doesn't end here. Then I dreamt of pursuing a teacher's degree and teaching tiny tots by giving them the foundation for their future so that they can strive to get their goals and achieve their dreams in the future in the field they choose. Being a teacher is cheerful and entertaining. Teachers are never forgotten by a student for their patience and for creating a happy environment with all the students, which they will cherish life long even after they have their own family.

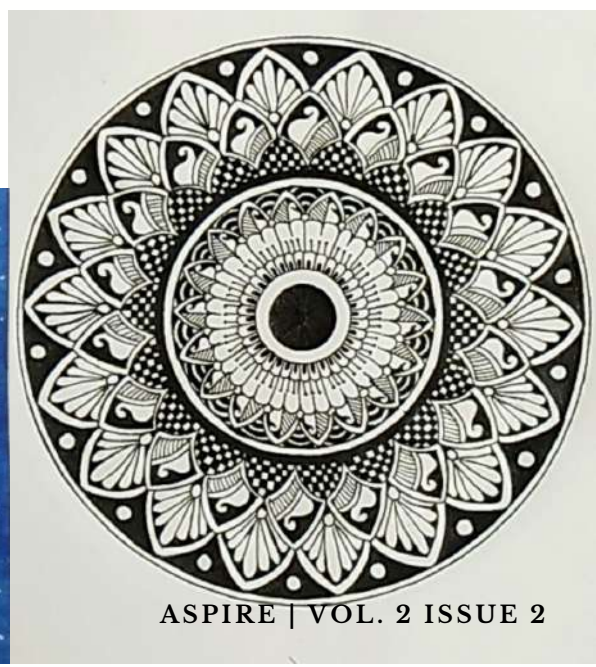

For education is a must in everybody's life. It even encourages me to write this essay about what I dream and would like to do in my future.

Conclusion- Essay is not just a story but a teacher's encouragement to release what is there in your heart and mind to make me a better person.

DeFi

Renaissance of Financial Systems

By Anoop Mohanta

The concept of decentralization started back in 2009 when a presumed pseudonymous named Satoshi Nakamoto started bitcoin; the first decentralized currency. The term Decentralised finance(DeFi) was coined in August 2018 by a few developers of Ethereum on a telegram chat. They were discussing what to call the movement of open financial applications and ended up with the name DeFi. The first usage of DeFi was in December 2017 when MakerDAO was launched. It's a decentralized lending platform that was built on the Ethereum blockchain.

Meaning and purpose

DeFi is a collective term for financial products and services that are accessible to anyone with an internet connection. They are run and managed by codes which are called smart contracts. It is a movement that allows users to utilize financial services such as borrowing, lending, and trading without the need to rely on centralized entities. The purpose of DeFi is to remove the middlemen, bring more transparency, make it accessible to everyone and increase the efficiency of traditional financial services.

Decoding DeFi—Layers of DeFi

Blockchain Layer: It's the foundation layer that stores data such as transaction history and state of accounts.

Assets Layer: It consists of assets that are issued on the blockchain example tokens and currencies.

Protocols Layer: It provides standards for use cases of Dapps(Decentralised Apps) which are called smart contracts.

Applications Layer: It's created the front-end of the applications which are linked with smart contracts.

Aggregator Layer: It's an extension to the application layer which creates user-centric platforms that connect to several applications and protocols.

Categories

Stablecoins: To eradicate the volatility of the crypto market Stablecoins were created which are pegged with stable assets such as USD. Examples: USDT, USDC, etc

Exchanges: Decentralised exchanges aim to solve the issue of centralized exchanges by allowing users to exchange cryptocurrencies without giving up custody of the coins. Examples: AirSwap, io, Barterdex, etc

Derivatives: A derivative is a contract whose value is derived from another underlying asset such as stocks, commodities, currencies, indexes, bonds, or interest rates. Traders can use derivatives to hedge their positions and decrease their risk in any particular trade. DeFi platforms are starting to build derivatives markets.

Fund Management: It means overseeing and managing the cash flow to generate returns on your investments. You can manage your decentralized assets by Zapper Finance, Zerion, DeFi Saver, etc

Lending and borrowing: Decentralisation eases the lending and borrowing process by removing the mediators. You can collateralize your digital assets to borrow money.

Insurance: It's a risk management strategy in which an individual receives financial protection if an unfortunate event happens. You can now get insurance for smart contracts failure and exchange hacks. Examples: Nexus Mutual, Unslashed Finance, etc

Payments: A key role of cryptocurrency is to allow decentralized and trustless value transfer between two parties. The possibility of providing payments as streams.

Merits

Transparency: Anyone can inspect and scrutinize the codes.

Immutability: Alteration of information is not possible.

Accessibility: Anyone can access it with an internet connection.

Demerits

Transparency: Hackers could exploit the codes

Immutability: Errors could multiply into something larger.

Scalability: The bandwidth of a Dapp is limited to its blockchain.

Existing banking problems and solutions by DeFi

- Efficiency: In banks, payments may take days due to manual process but in Defi you can transfer your funds within minutes.
- Transparency: Banks are closed books you cannot see their record of managed assets but in Defi, you can audit everything.
- Restrictions: Certain types of people who have an x number of credit scores or assets can take loans but in Defi, anyone can take the loan.
- Mismanagement: You have to trust companies not to mismanage your money for instance giving loans to risky borrowers but in Defi you manage your money.
- Freedom: Banks hold your money but in Defi you hold it.

Risks in DeFi

- Tech Risk: Smart contract is a bunch of codes that are written by humans and there could be a possibility of errors that could become a loophole for hackers.
- Asset Risk: Crypto-assets used as collateral may sharply decline in value because of cryptocurrencies but this problem has been solved by stable coins.
- Product Risk: There's no regulation or insurance on your money when you use Defi. Between Jan-April 2021, $156 million was stolen in DeFi-related hacks, according to Cipher Trace.

Conclusion

Defi is still in its nascent stage and a lot of development is yet to be done. We can see many scams are happening around but don't forget it also has many positive sides as discussed above. Many developers are working to eradicate problems of DeFi and in the future buying loans, transferring funds, lending money, etc from Defi platforms could be the new normal. If you go back in between the late '90s to early 2000s similar things were happening with the internet—there were a lot of company scams, everyone was starting his .com company, people were not comfortable buying products online but look at today as technology got evolved so do our trust with internet companies and we could see great companies like Google, Instagram, Amazon and many more coming out from it. In my opinion, the same thing may happen with Defi but I'd suggest doing your thorough research before buying anything from Defi platforms and keep a track of things happening in this space because you might find an opportunity or idea to build your own company around it.
